

Academic Pronunciation Gap Fill 1

Link <http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=IknHxna3fDA>

10 Academic Words (a-c)

1. Analysis
2. Approach
3. Area
4. Assessment
5. Assume
6. Authority
7. Available
8. Benefits
9. Concept
10. Consistent

Pronunciation Sentences Gap Fill 1

1. Prosecutors argued that the _____' risk analysis was _____ and that the s _____ made by city officials _____ residents not to _____, costing lives.
2. Such an approach could help _____ benign _____ from _____ masses that need _____ attention.
3. Industry is routinely pilloried for " _____ " experts, for _____ physicians and scientists who are _____ to be key " _____ " in an area.
4. Harmonized EU _____ would require "a good deal of _____ assessment and _____ agreement in Council", she added.
5. Forecasters assumed that _____ would provide an _____ to fiscal _____.
6. The union's _____ committee said it would take its _____ for better economic terms, _____ by the strike _____ authorization, to the U.S.
7. For the most part, grants available to _____ have shriveled as _____ like genomics gain _____ in biology, Dr. Cameron said.
8. Other member states are _____ more spending on agriculture _____ and the _____ funds that benefit Europe's _____ regions.
9. _____ physicists have _____ over tons of data and complicated _____, talked about _____ and black holes hoping to get clues on this _____ concept.
10. Collectively, these _____ are consistent with _____ that cannabis use in _____, when the brain is undergoing _____ development, may have neurotoxic _____.

Pronunciation Sentences ANSWERS

1. Prosecutors argued that the seismologists' risk analysis was flawed and that the statements made by city officials convinced residents not to evacuate, costing lives. Scientific American Dec 12, 2012
2. Such an approach could help physicians distinguish benign growths from malignant masses that need immediate attention. Nature Nov 23, 2012
3. Industry is routinely pilloried for "buying off" experts, for hiring physicians and scientists who are perceived to be key "thought leaders" in an area. Forbes Dec 27, 12
4. Harmonized EU sanctions would require "a good deal of legal assessment and unanimous agreement in Council", she added. Reuters Dec 18, 2012
5. Forecasters assumed that monetary expansion would provide an effective antidote to fiscal contraction. The Guardian Dec 20, 2012
6. The union's negotiating committee said it would take its proposal for better economic terms, backed up by the strike vote authorization, to the U.S. Reuters Nov 20, 2012
7. For the most part, grants available to taxonomists have shriveled as specialties like genomics gain ascendance in biology, Dr. Cameron said. New York Times Jan 16, 13
8. Other member states are demanding more spending on agriculture subsidies and the cohesion funds that benefit Europe's poorer regions. Science Magazine Feb 1, 2013
9. Theoretical physicists have pored over tons of data and complicated equations, talked about wormholes and black holes hoping to get clues on this elusive concept. Scientific American Jan 11, 2013
10. "Collectively, these findings are consistent with speculation that cannabis use in adolescence, when the brain is undergoing critical development, may have neurotoxic effects." BBC Aug 27, 2012